NOTES

Class - VII Subject - English Topic – Seven Ages of Man

A. RTS-

1. a) The world is compared to the stage.
   b) All the men and women are the players on the stage.
2. a) The soldier is jealous in honour, sudden and quick in quarrel.
   b) Reputation is compared to a bubble because it vanishes very quickly.

B. Answer the following questions-

1. The seven stages of man's life are the infant, the schoolboy, the lover, the soldier, the middle-aged person (judge), the old person, and the second childhood.
2. The school boy goes to school at a snail's pace because he does not want to go to school.
3. In the stage of the soldier, the man is young. He is courageous and full of vigour and always ready to quarrel to prove his point and save his reputation.
4. Men and women are merely players on the stage of life because they enact their respective roles from birth to death in seven stages.
5. The poet wants to convey the message that change is inevitable in life, and the role of every person change in different stages of life in the world.
